

Director, Surgical Skills Assessment. The Department of Surgery at Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences & the Walter Reed National Military Medical Center "America's Medical School."

CURRICULUM VITAE

Pamela B. Andreatta, EdD, PhD, MFA, MA, FSSH

SUMMARY STATEMENT

Professional, passionate educator, researcher, and expert human performance specialist dedicated to supporting the acquisition and implementation of abilities in critical and complex health services environments. Proficient analyst specializing in outcomes-based research and evidence-based evaluation leading to high impact quality of care and safety initiatives in medicine, surgery, nursing and the health professions. Experienced, globally recognized leader in medical, surgical, nursing and health professions education. Deep expertise in assessment, evaluation, instructional design, theoretical and empirical systems of practice, and professional development, including educational technologies and simulation supported methods for achieving performance mastery in all disciplines. More than 20 years of administrative and executive leadership.