

Benjamin Hall Episode Intro

On this episode, we are privileged to welcome Fox News Journalist and War Correspondent Benjamin Hall to WarDocs. Ben was reporting near the front lines in Ukraine when Russian forces attacked his team, and he sustained life-threatening injuries, and 2 of his colleagues were killed. Ben describes his harrowing journey from the point of injury in Ukraine through the evacuation chain through Poland to Germany and ultimately to Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio for definitive treatment of injuries, including the loss of parts of his leg, his foot, and hand as well as burns elsewhere on his entire body. He talks about his experience with military medicine during the treatment, recovery, and rehabilitation from his injuries at the Center for the Intrepid in San Antonio. Ben has a tremendously positive attitude and has shown amazing courage throughout his ordeal and is genuinely thankful for the tremendous care he received from Military Medicine

He tells his incredible story here on WarDocs